Want To Take An Apprentice On?

Apprenticeships are work-based training programmes combining on and off the job learning that offer the opportunity for people to earn whilst they learn in a real job.

They have been developed alongside employers, ensuring the skills that the apprentice learn are relevant. Unlike some qualifications, the course can be tailored around the employers needs ensuring it's the right fit .

This qualification is available fully funded for new apprentices or people already in work aged 16 and above (subject to eligibility). In addition, if you are a business within Greater London, with under 49 staff, you may be eligible for a grant of £1,500 per Apprentice (aged 16 – 23) you employ. You can access up to 5 grants, totalling £7,500.

"Because apprenticeships are based in the workplace employers get the skills they really need. They are vital to the future success, not only of businesses across the Country but also for a vibrant economy."

David Frost, Director General,
British Chamber of Commerce

Level 3 Diploma in Management with Jobwise Training

Do you want to help to create tomorrow's managers today?

A Level 3 Diploma in Management has been created for staff who already have some management or team leading experience and who are looking to take this to the next level. It will provide them with a solid foundation of practical skills and theoretical knowledge on which to continue their growth. The qualification is available to new or current employees, allowing you to establish a key development marker for your staff and deliver succession planning in your organisation.

The learner will be required to demonstrate their ability and competencies when managing within their role and will gain a high level understanding of management practices.

The course can be tailored to the needs of the employee, their role and the needs of the organisation. Input can be provided on preferred units of study and Jobwise Training will ensure that they have a full understanding of the required outcome. You will have a single point of contact throughout the duration of the course so that you can easily contact them should you have any questions or queries. In addition you will be provided with regular updates on how the learner is progressing.

As the course is work-based there will be minimal disruption to the regular working pattern. The vocational nature of this course will also maintain the link between what they are learning and how it is implemented and impacts their job role. This further reinforces it's relevance in day to day situations.
